

GRAPHIC DESIGNER
AND
FRONT-END DEVELOPER
JONNY NORBERG

My name is Jonny Norberg and I am a 39 year old art director, graphic designer, web designer and entrepreneur who creates concepts and ideas. I am a driven, dedicated and ambitious person who has a wide range of expertise in print design, advertising, webdesign, media and audio production. I have previously designed and produced everything from banners, websites and Facebook pages to posters, fullpage ads and a variety of printed material. I live for the creative process, taking an idea from brief to launch, and to continuously develop and refine my skills and practices. I work well in teams and thrive in the creative crossfire. I am a sucker for integrated media, cross-platform production and multiple distribution channels.

I have good communication skills, an open mind and work freely in both PC and Mac environments. I am fluent in Swedish and English and have cross-cultural experiences from my years abroad, both as a student and as a professional. Schooled from basic principles and theories of graphic design, advertising, communication and web production, I have over the years also acquired skills in social media awareness, SEO, e-commerce and CMS systems.

I am on the hunt for a creative position with clear objectives and a high tempo. Working with multiple, simultaneous projects feels natural and I do well under pressure. I always try to deliver top notch results, regardless of timeframe or severity. My personal key interests lies in the fields of advertising, media, graphic design, web development, e-commerce, music production and entrepreneurship.

Hope to hear from you soon!
